

Concert symphonique 18 – Changement de distribution

Genia Kühmeier étant souffrante, elle a dû annuler sa participation au concert du 30 août prochain avec le Philharmonique de Berlin et Sir Simon Rattle. C'est Elsa Dreisig qui la remplacera et chantera la partie de soprano dans La Création de Joseph Haydn. Le programme reste le même :

Elsa Dreisig

Biography

The renowned vocal competition Operalia awarded Elsa Dreisig First Prize as best female singer of 2016. The same year she was the "Vocal Discovery" of the prestigious Victoires de la Musique Classique and the highly esteemed magazine Opernwelt granted her the sought-after mention as "Young Artist of the Year". Already in 2015 Elsa Dreisig had been awarded both Second Prize of the Queen Sonja Competition in Oslo as well as First Prize and Audience's Prize of the "Neue Stimmen" Competition of the Bertelsmann Foundation in Gütersloh. In 2015/16 she joined the opera-studio of the Berlin State Opera where she is meanwhile already performing leading roles such as Pamina (The Magic Flute) and Euridice (Orpheus and Euridice). Further engagements within season 2016/17 include no less than her debut at the Opéra national de Paris (Pamina), at the Zurich Opera (Musetta in La Bohème) and at the Festival d'Aix-en-Provence (Micaëla in Carmen). In 2017/18, she will be an ensemble-member of the Berlin State Opera, however also making guest-appearances at the Zurich Opera (Pamina) and at the Opéra national de Paris (Lauretta in Gianni Schicchi). Elsa Dreisig is French and Danish and graduated from the Conservatoire National Supérieur de Musique et de Danse in Paris.
